Research Experiences for Undergraduates

Tuesday 15th November 2016

7pm LeConte 312

How to do math research as an undergraduate student? Come and find out!

South Carolina graduate students Alicia Lamarche, Spencer Saunders, and Kevin Sheng will talk about their experiences at REUs.

Dr. Kass will be available to answer your questions and to describe opportunities for research, both here and at other universities.

Refreshments will be served, and all are welcome.
