

A continuous function on a closed interval achieves its max and min.