The power set of S is always larger than S.