He is the father of modern algebraic geometry. He is now said to be living in isolation in the French Alps.