This 1987 film is based on the true story of Jaime Escalante, a high school math teacher in inner-city Los Angeles who worked with students to choose math over gang culture.