

This inventor of calculus is best known, in philosophy, for his theory of monads.